Through the transformation of the flesh, transformation of the spirit may be achieved

Avoiding the alteration of one's own body.

Enlightenment and transformation are the same state of being. This understanding is the key to all change. Concern yourself with the state of your own being, not that of others.

Reject outward distraction for inward transformation.

Any vampire can transform himself through the appplication of research and will; only a select few can fully understand this precept.

The flesh is clay, to be modlded and shaped as desired; we desire the prefection of the spirit.
