ASSAMITES

Haqim / Hassan / Assam <3> Sire of ur-Shulgi, Mancheaka and Abu Ilaf. His embrace is told in various tales. He is said to have Embraced himself with the blood of the King and the Queen. (CbR-As) tells he was a great warrior in life, but dedicated himself to scholarship as he grew older, and learned to speak and write the language of the dead. He earned the attention of one of Caine's childer, who Embraced him. He lived in the Second City, though he never settled there. He always remained neutral to the quarrels of his brothers and sister and cousins. His only sister is the one referred to as the mother of the Clan of the Blossom (Ariel) His two brothers were known as the Serpent (Set) and the Sage (Malkav). All the other Antediluvians came to him and pleaded to have him create a "second family" in order to judge and control their rebellious childer. Named "Hunter," then "Judge." "Assam" is a mispronunciation of Haqim. Haqim was not his real name. He last visited the Alamut in 68 BC. He appeared in Antioch one century later. He was last seen in the British Isles in 121 AD, engaged in philosophical conversations and played chess with the Ventrue Mithras. Dies in Nightshade, Gehenna. Details from The Crucible of G-d: Haqim wakes up planning on continuing the work of judging other Cainites. Kindred can either join his cause or be destroyed by his minions. Haqim is destroyed. [BoN] [CbR-As] [EV,p87] [LoH] [ToJ:G,p17] (Founder of the Sect of the Assassins)

Avatar of Haqim. [*CotN,p89] [NoP] [CbR-As] [EV,p179] [ToJ:G,p17] (Akkadian king of the Dynasty III of Ur, BC 2094-2047)

Sha'hiri <4> Sire of Thetmes. Master of the Assamites (Old man of the Mountain) before Jamal. He invited Jamal's challenge after the shame of the Convention of Thorns (1493). Dead [LS3,p62] [Cb-As] [CotN] [CbR-As] [PGLC]

Jamal <4> Master of the Assamites (Old man of the Mountain). Slain by ur-Shulgi. Throughout the Holy Wars which were fought over the Holy Land, the name of the hashashiyyin was a name of dread. Of all the hashashiyyin, no name was greater or more terrible than that of Jamal. It is whispered that he has been defeated only once, by the Inconnu Drakulya, and that the previous Master invited his challenge after the shame of the Convention of Thorns (1493), and charged him to guard the rafiq and bring them through the Hijra so that they might avenge themselves for the Curse. Some say that he is of the Unconquered, and some that he walks but two paces behind the Ancestor. All know that he has been challenged but three times and remains the Master. Thetmes <5> (-25) Embraced by Sha'hiri. Sire of Elijah Ahmed and Fatima Al-Faqadi. Caliph of Alamut. He began as a soldier, fighting for the boy-king Ptolemy against his sister Cleopatra and her Roman minions. When Ptolemy fell, it pleased the barbarian Antonius to have his followers fight each other in the arena; this provided sport for the nervous populace, as well as saving the trouble and expense of mass executions. Thetmes fought for his life, and the Romans were impressed. Antonius took him to Rome, where he was sold and became a gladiator. A few months later his retirement was announced and he returned to Alamut where he is now the caliph and oversees the training of the fida'i. He is a stern master and a word of praise from him is hard earned. All rafiq look up to him and would sacrifice themselves without hesitation upon his command. [Cb-As,p64,96] [*CbR-As] [EV,p159] al-Ashrad <5> (1st century) Embraced by ur-Shulgi. Sire of Amaravati. Former Amr of clan Assamite. He is regarded askance by many of the rafiq, for magic inspires fear and mistrust in the heart of a warrior. Yet none can deny that he has done great work for the clan since the falling of the Curse. He works constantly to strengthen the Heartsblood of the clan and weaken the hold of the Curse upon it. He is responsible for the sorcery weapons that are used to defeat the munafiqun, and it is whispered that he has fought hand to hand with the demons sent by the Tremere to end him. While the rafiq fear al-Ashrad, they take pride in the fact that he is the greatest magician in the world - for if he were not, would there not be another Amr in his place? His left arm and eye were removed by Haqim as punishment. A diamond replaces the missing eye. When ur-Shulgi took control of the clan, al-Ashrad didn't agree with his interpretation of the Law of Judgment and left with many followers and joined the Camarilla. Tariq, the Silent - Black Hand Dominion <5-13> (1250) Embraced by Bakr. Sire of Fatimid Cairo and Gabriel Chavez. He is the 4th of the Red List. His generation is lowered to 13 by the Tremere Antitribe in 1998. Once, Tariq was as a brother to Jamal, and among the greatest of the rafiq. But he would not submit to the Curse, and went out into the wilderness. He is sometimes seen among the antitribe, but is not one of them, as much as they would wish it. He follows his own vengeance against the clan's enemies, and although Jamal was pressured by the Camarilla into declaring a Blood Hunt against him, only the most troublesome rafiq are given the task of carrying it out; Tariq will not destroy them, for they are of the clan, but their inevitable defeat serves them as a lesson in humility. Meanwhile, Tariq is free to pursue his own ends, and coincidentally provides a scapegoat for the deeds of other rafiq, should one be required. In 2000, Tariq discovers Djulah's scheme to manipulate him and kills the Seraph.(CbR-As) Was captured by the Tremere antitribe before that bloodline's destruction. The Sabbat suspects he might have been involved somehow. [KMW,p69] [*CotN,p15] [CbR-As] [EV,p157] (The angel that descended upon Europe during the crusades, destroying all that crossed his path)

Faqadi (1102) <?> Caliph of Alamut. He began as a soldier, fighting for the boy-king Ptolemy against his sister Cleopatra and her Roman minions. When Ptolemy fell, it pleased the barbarian Antonius to have his followers fight each other in the arena; this provided sport for the nervous populace, as well as saving the trouble and expense of mass executions. Thetmes fought for his life, and the Romans were impressed. Antonius took him to Rome, where he was sold and became a gladiator. A few months later his retirement was announced and he returned to Alamut where he is now the caliph and oversees the training of the fida'i. He is a stern master and a word of praise from him is hard earned. All rafiq look up to him and would sacrifice themselves without hesitation upon his command. [Cb-As,p64] [CbR-As]

Shankar swore revenge for this insult, and sought out the Thuggee in the Mountains. Many soldiers fell to his knives and garrote as he avenged his kinswomen, and he was found worthy of the greater battle, against the kafir Ventrue who had sent the British to India. Shankar learned as a fida'i about those who call themselves Kindred, and the many wrongs they had inflicted upon his new-found clan. Like many of the younger rafiq, he is impatient for revenge, and he is prominent among the Militant faction, preaching open warfare upon the munafiqun. I had the right authentication and your PGP keys. Here is where I establish my bona fides as a daughter of Haqim, not as a piece of technology. My name is Sarah Schneider and I hold the Seat of Copper and Lightning in the Council of Scrolls, and yes, this is important enough to require me to expose myself.

Alpha passed the order down for me to get the word out to all cells. You have to know what's on the Throne. On 08 November, we opened the Vault of the Pillars. The records there confirmed our suspicions as to the identity and nature of the new Eldest.

You already know about the Baali Wars, and about the Second City, and the parables of how the Ancestor made the warriors to serve as the world's first police, and how the sorcerers were made as demon hunters because the Ancestor did not trust Saulot.

The problem, at least before the sorcerers came along, was that the Baali and all their cultist followers were too disorganized for the warriors and the first sorcerers to strike at. It was like trying to fight a swarm of wasps. So the Ancestor gave them something to unify them. He found someone who was born with a soul already destined for corruption -- a ten-year-old shepherd -- and Embraced that child. Then Haqim took his childe to the pit that Saulot said had spawned the Baali and he threw that shepherd into it. And the blood of the Ancestor and the power of that soul turned that child into the leader that the Baali needed.

When the Baali assaulted the Second City en masse, the Ancestor was off on one of his mysterious disappearances. He made it back just in time to stop his childe and tear the demon out of the body that it rode, and when the battle was over he claimed that he had found the child dying on the battlefield and the Embrace was the only way to save that innocent victim. Then he watched the child to make sure that it was safe to have around.

I guess he did not watch long enough. Some sort of spiritual seed stayed in the child, and that soul was never truly clean anyway, no matter what the Ancestor did. And it woke up last year, and now it is the Eldest. It is not Baali, and it is not possessed, and we do not think it is not working with or for anything infernal, but it is a case where the whole is greater than the sum of its parts, and it is not one of Haqim's Children any more, not really. It is something more, and it is something less.

Every scroll and tablet we found in the Vault of the Pillars, every test we can perform without arousing its suspicion, everything we have points to ur-Shulgi as that child. It is close enough to 100% certainty that Alpha ord

BAALI

Originally a group of mortals in the early years of the world which worshiped beings that ruled before YHWH said "Let their be light." They were destroyed by a vampire from the East named Ashur the bodies were thrown into a well and blood poured into it. Three beings crawled out Embraced.

Shaitan / Adriel (Huitzilopochtli) <4> Embraced by Saulot. Sire of Nezahualcoyotl. He was Embraced in the Second City and believed that his sire was Ashur. Sent by Caine and Ashur to investigate a mortal cult of infernalists. He was seduced to their side when he met Ba'al, one of the Great Demons. His fortress in Crete was destroyed by the Setites and the other Clans. He walked to Mexico and proclaimed himself Huitzilopochtli, the Aztec god of War. [CF,p118] [Cb-Ba] [EV,p150] (Assyrian Fire God)

Moloch <4> Embraced by Saulot. Sire of Annazir. Dwelt in Carthage, and was Troile's blood-bound lover. The two of them are entwined together in torpor beneath Carthage's remains. [Cb-Ba] [EV,p114]

Las Hermanas Hambrientas "The Hungry Sisters" <10-14>

(1997) The first hungry sister was created by the Tremere antitribe Elena Mendoza Vasquez. This first sister could reproduce unlike any other Blood Brother before. The Embrace is very hard on both the Sire and Childe. The Sire and Childe become immobilized as their blood flows back and forth through each other in a perpetual feeding circle. Between three to 10 nights later, if all goes well, the feeding ends sire and childe rise. The three prototype Blood Brothers remained in torpor in Elena's subterranean Chantry until November of 2000, when Esteban and La Viuda broke in to exhume Vasquez's research. One of these Frankensteins was freed from stasis and escaped into the shantytowns of the eastern fringe. [*MCbN,p69,71]

(DSotBH) mentions Troile as female. He was approached by Eshmunamash about the carnage that occurred in Carthage but did not care. Troile is said to have participated to the final battle defending Carthage (-146). It is said he is in a lovers Embrace with Moloch in the ground under Carthage. In (DAVa) is said to have be the first Diablerist and cursed by Caine with the fury he felt after Diablerizing his sire. Some Brujah believe that Troile and Brujah could be the same Cainite. Notes: This mighty Cainite remains in a state of torpor. Thus, his statistics only matter if he were somehow to awaken. If that happened, he would not come to his full strength immediately, but would be substantially weaker. However, all his Disciplines would still function at full power. Menele's extra level of Auspex allows him to stay aware of events around him while in torpor. Thus, his dreams are filled with images of things that might affect him, but they are often hard to interpret. His extra level of Dominate allows him to use his other levels without the requirement of eye contact - only a touch is needed. Finally, his two extra levels of Thaumaturgy allow him access to powerful rituals enabling him to summon and control spirits and elemen-

tals, but he must be awake to do so.

Cappadocius / Ashur / Laodice <3> Sire of Caias Koine, Japheth, Byzar, Humuusa, Lazarus and Augustus Giovanni. Cappadocius was Diablerized by Augustus Giovanni the 4th of April 1444. He wanted to achieve Apotheosis but he realized he had to be a spirit in the Shadowlands to accomplish the task so when Augustus Diablerized him he became a wraith. The wraith of Cappadocius became a spectre and was tied to a fetter in Boston early 1900s and was "laid to rest" after the fetter was destroyed throwing his soul into the deep Shadowlands. Notes: As High Priestess for the Disciples of Anubis, Nadima has inherited, unearthed and personally developed several rituals to assist in their cause. Two of the most important of these are Blessed Communion and The Becoming (both level five). The former allows her to establish a link to the Underworld whereby she and others involved in the rite can contact Anubis himself (and, up until recently, Hatshepsut's ba) for guidance. The latter, a long and involved rite which must be cast during a Blessed Communion, allows a Disciple to tailor his Protean studies thereafter to assume the Jackel-Man shape - the common bond that signifies and unites the Disciples of Anubis.

When he awoke he met Hector Trelane. They worked together for a while until Hector was recalled to Vienna. Ryder then met the Children of Osiris who taught him to control his beast and he began walking a better path. When the Gangrel pulled out of the Camarilla he went looking for an aviar and learned that something big was going to happen and he could do little against it. Ryder met Hector again who went by the name of John Trent, who was hunted by the Camarilla. Ryder has a fear of water, the Embrace enhanced this fear. Any body of water greater than a gushing gutter causes him to be afraid. He will do anything to avoid crossing the body of water. Ryder is traveling with Trent when they are approached by a group of Kindred that have heard some interesting stories of Angels. They have also been selected by Ferox to take sanctuary for the 40 nights when Wormwood destroys every Kindred on the earth. [*ToJ:G,p231]

Ferox believes that Nosferatu are daemons and he kills them this landed him number 7 of the Red List. Ferox showed himself as the Arch Angel Michael to a Dhampire named Alia. She gave the message the One Above told her to Ferox. That she will gather a group of Kindred together to have the chance for redemption when a new Deluge sweeps the Curse of Caine from the world. They both paint a symbol on Cainites doors marking them so they will hear the call to an abandoned church which will become a safe haven during this destruction. Wormwood the Red Star that appeared shortly before the Week of Nightmares explodes into a maroon mist that drifts over the earth. This mist inhibits Kindred's ability to feed and thins the blood of the most power vampires til they are all 15th gen and then die from starvation. The One Above's punishment toward the Cainite race will last for 40 nights on the 37th night the last vampire will die but the mist will remain through the 40th night. The next dawn the sun rises and a terrible wind destroys the sanctuary which housed those vampires Ferox summoned. Only those Kindred that have proven that they are capable of human acts are redeemed all others are engulfed by a white hot pillar of fire as the sun destroys them. Ferox dies because he served as a soldier and did not believe after Wormwood has cleansed the world of all Kindred. [KMW,p51-55] [EV,p71] [*ToJ:G,p228]

MALKAVIAN

Malkav / Mekhet <3> Embraced by Enoch. Sire of Lamdiel, The Plague-Bride, Nissiku, Panehesy and The Eater. He is said to be the second-oldest antediluvian, twin to Arikel. The Malkavians also consider that Saulot and Set are brothers to Malkav (CbR-Ma). When the Second City fell, Malkav and his coterie fled to the city of Petra. The eldest childer of Malkav were all destroyed. His new childer numbered 8, 12, 20, or 36. The book says that Malkav keeps count of his childer, and that none must be destroyed "for numbers are sacred." It is said that Malkav was "more than a man in life" ; certain manuscripts describe him as an angel or a messenger. Malkav might have given his third eye to Saulot. The Ventrue name him Mekhet and say he was banished from the Second City by their Antediluvian. Resides in Arcadia per Fountains of Bright Crimson. Thought to be the Aralu named Ninmug or Al-Mahri in Enoch of the Shadowlands. Per Gehenna he is the Malkavian Madness Network. Details from Nightshade: He takes the form of a dozen little girls that look identical. The group of girls are destroyed by Set and then he takes control of a Malkavian at Gehenna. Dies at Gehenna with 5 other Antediluvians when the child Saulot atones for the sins of Cainites. Details from The Crucible of G-d: Malkav takes control of his clan through the Madness Network or Dementation. Not only does the Antediluvian have most Malkavians under his whim but several mortals. He connects them all together through hive mind mentality. No one knows what destroys the Antediluvian. At least one of them must be able to see the target at all times, and all of the knights must be in agreement as to what they want the target to do. Each Knight contributes as many points of temporary Willpower as he wants, and each point equals one die in the pool. The Six roll against the target's Willpower, and must accumulate 10 successes. If successful, they can command anyone, even vampires of lover generation. If a botch occurs, all accumulate successes are lost and the Six must start again from scratch; the difficulty of this repeated attempt is one higher. The Storyteller should keep in mind that the loss of so many points of Willpower at one is not a trivial thing.

This artifact is effective if the user is within a few yards of the Kindred in question. The pocket watch does not accurately tell time and forever reads 1:11, even if wound.

NOSFERATU

Nosferatu / Absimiliard <3> Embraced by Zillah. Sire of Yima, Vasilisa, Abraxes, Nuckalavee, Gorgo, Echidna, Azazel, Melachote, The Matriarch, Gayomart, Illuyankas and Baba Yaga. He was said to be extremely beautiful; cursed by Caine (CbR-Tz says it was by Tzimisce) because he tried to Diablerize his sire or defaced a statue of the first murderer. Former lover of Arikel and still alive somewhere under a mountain range in Eastern Europe. (TC4) explains that "The web's true master, the Nosferatu Antediluvian who inspired Zelios to construct the geomantic structure hundreds of years ago, finally seek to use it to destroy the Toreador Antediluvian." He recently awakened Vasilisa to send her to kill Baba Yaga. Thought to be the Aralu named Al-Mahri or Nimmug in Enoch of the Shadowlands. Fled from human contact either at the bottom of the sea or Antarctica where he sits rotting, but ultimately unable to end his own unlife because he hasn't the willpower. Another theory per Gehenna is that Absimiliard is not the actual Antediluvian and that the Antediluvian made the world forget he ever existed with the mastery of Obfuscate. Details from Nightshade Dies at Gehenna with 5 other Antediluvians when the child Saulot atones for the sins of Cainites. Details from The Crucible of G-d: Absimiliard assaults the earth with creatures he created eons ago. He is Diablerized by an Antediluvian known as the Shaper, she calls herself "Sarah." [Cb-No,p13-16] [WoD1,p57] [CotI,p55] [VtM1] [DSotBH] [TC4] [NoP] [CbR-Tz] [LS4] [EV,p12] [PGLC] [ToJ:G,p18]

Baba Yaga, the Little Mother <4> (-5000) Embraced by Absimiliard. Sire of Gutka, Melitta Wallenberg and Sergei Voshkov. Rage across Russia says Baba Yaga was a priestess for her people who tried to fight the Nosferatu antediluvian, who had come to predate on them. She used her magic to drive him off, which seemed to work, but He returned later. Impressed with her talent, he Embraced her. She had the option, being a spiritually aware sort of girl, of dying, and not becoming a vampire, but elected to allow the change in order to finally defeat him. As he gloated over her, she cast a terrible spell to save her people, and summoned up several Wyrms-dragons. He easily fooled them into chasing after illusions, but she had one last spell, although it would mean her soul. In her hatred (and possibly partly for her love for her people), she cast it, summoning up a REALLY big twisty-nasty and promised to serve him eternally if he would rid the land of Nosferatu. The big Nasty and Nosferatu had a ruck, and Baba Yaga never saw the outcome, but later the summoned Twisty returned and demanded his promise be fulfilled. Maybe the Twisty was really an obfuscated Nosferatu antediluvian, punishing her.... Anyway, she was now doomed, twisted by hatred, cut off from the life flow of her motherland and people, and more bitter because of it. She's still pretty possessive about it though, but in a selfish way. She awoke from torpor in 1990 in Russia. Her death at the hands of Vasilisa is described in (NoP.) (TCIV) Baba Yaga is rumoured to be killed by Karsh or Jalan-Aajav. [*WoD1,p57] [RaR,p90] [NoP,p100] [CotI,p55] [TbN,p87] [CbR-No] [TCIV,p119] [PGLC] (Russian Legend)

Vasilisa, the Nictuku <4> Embraced by Absimiliard. Nictuku. A young child who was slated for execution by his village for killing his family and several other villagers. Absimiliard was impressed by the boy's ruthlessness and Embraced him. It usually takes the form of Vasilisa (a small girl), Koshchei the Deathless, Baba Yaga, Anastasia, et cetera, to hunt its prey. It doesn't have a name it remembers; over twice the age of Baba Yaga. Awakened recently and killed Baba Yaga in 1999. Vasilisa is said to be twice as olde as Baba Yaga estimating it's Embrace around -10,000 BC. [NoP,p101]

Yima <4> Embraced by Absimiliard. Yima was said to have been Embraced long before Caine's curse on the clan. It's generally accepted that Yima saw the coming flood and (in a fashion similar to Noah) took each of his best in pairs and retreated to his subterranean sanctuary. There is a great debate as to whether or not Yima was struck with the curse. Some say he was because he inadvertently broke the law forbidding him to take disfigured things with him. Those who think he was not affected do so because they believe Caine favored him and thus took pity on him. Meaning that there is the possibility of a Nosferatu Methuselah untouched by the curse. In essence, Yima is to the Nosferatu what the Grail is to Christian Knights. In a letter written on 10/31/00, Calebros expressed his belief that the Yima is just "another story of the Nictuku" saying that what else would a flawless ancestor do but destroy his vile cousins. [LS4] [PGLC]

Abraxes, Lord of Mists <4> Embraced by Absimiliard. Nictuku. [Cb-No,p17] [EV,p12] (Greek Legend)

Nuckalavee, the Skinless <4> Embraced by Absimiliard. Nictuku. The Nuckalavee is the most horrible of all the Scottish elves. He lives mainly in the sea, but was also held responsible for ruined crops, epidemics, and drought. His breath could wilt the crops and sicken the livestock. He looks like a horse whose legs are part fin; he has an enormous snout-like mouth, and a single, fiery eye. His arms reach to the ground, his body is distorted and his huge head sways on a small neck, as if it is to weak to hold the head. The most gruesome about his appearance is the fact that he has no skin. Black blood courses through yellow veins and the pale sinews and powerful muscles are clear to see. He has an aversion of running water and those who are chased by him have only to cross a stream to get rid of him. [Cb-No,p17] [EV,p122] (Scottish Legend)

Gorgo, She who Screams in Darkness <4> Embraced by Absimiliard. Nictuku. Has arisen, so say the Nosferatu in the Amazonian Jungle. [Cb-No,p17] [WoD2] [EV,p83] (South American Legend)

Margarite <13> [CbN2,p142]

RAVNOS

Ravnos / Zapathasura / Ravanna / Dracian / Churka <3> Embraced by Irad. Sire of Black Mother, Rakshasa, Chandraputo, Ravana and Ramessu. The Ravnos Ante is said to have sired 5 times in the first century or two of his unlife. The speaker said that there may be more, but that they doubted it because all of the lineages that they were able to recover traced their roots back to those five. Attacked in Bangladesh by the three Kuei-jin Bodhisattva, that died when Technomages executed Project Ragnarok, dropping special neutron bombs designed to destroy Supernaturals. Weather conditions dissipating allowed the Technomages to focus the suns rays from four satellites which reflected the rays to destroy the Antediluvian. This occurred during the Week of Nightmares in mid July of 1999. Instantly after the death of Ravnos the entire clan attacked each other, diminishing them to less then a 100 three nights later. [ToTB] [LS3] [CbR-Ma] [CBR-R] [EV,p139] [PGLC] [ToJ:G,p18]

Black Mother / Marizhashti Kali <4> Embraced by Zapathasura. Sire of Phaedyne and Sybarites' founder Brahman. Diablerized by the Sybarites' founder. She was often mistaken for Kali, the Hindu goddess of death destruction and the end of the world. She was a renowned Prophetess and was famous for her ability to perceive all layers of reality. She later abandoned Zapathasura and his war so he in turn had her name stricken from all recordings. The Brahman, Phuri Dae, Phaedymite, Sybarite, and Yoyari jatis are all descended from her. After Black Mother abandoned Zapathasura, she took the name Marizhashti Kali "The Ghost" and waited for the arrival of Alexander the Great in India. Upon Alexander's arrival with his armies, Marizhashti (a.k.a. Black Mother) Embraced one of his soldiers and told the child to "Go West", in which the soldier did and Marizhashti followed him to Europe and eventually settled in Gaul. It turned out that the soldier was actually not a man at all, it was a woman masquerading as a soldier. The woman's name was Phaedyne (later the founder of the Phaedymites) and she eventually (after creating her line and all) settled in Gaul with her sire and began looking out for her. Marizhashti developed her power base in Gaul and after the Romans conquered Gaul needed a way to ensure the continued existence of her control over the mortal affairs in her city. She Embraced a man (who has been said to be everyone from Julius Ceaser - which according to CB Ventrue revised was NEVER a vampire - to Romulus himself) who was a high member of Caligula's Rome and may have been a confidant of the Emperor. This man created Progeny and the line became the Sybarites (this took a few decades). It was then that Chandraputo deliberately let his teachings filter into Gaul through the Kshatriyas jati (his decedents) in an attempt to bring some of the "rogue lineages" back into the fold. The Sybarites took the teachings of the Kshatriyas and perverted them (which basically ended up being do whatever you want road). The founder (childe of Marizhashti/Black Mother) began his belief that Diablerie was a good thing and set out to do so to his sire. Phaedyne (and a number of the Phaedymites) who had also settled in Gaul protected Marizhashti against her "brother" and his line. obviously she failed because he ended up getting to Marizhashti and Diablerizing her. [CbR-Ra]

Rakshasa <4> Embraced by Zapathasura. He was said to have unmatched skill at deception. He was Zapathasura's scout for a time. But eventually disagreed with his sire's war and told him so. The two fought and Rakshasa barely escaped. He left and wound up turning into Zapathasura's 2nd greatest enemy (behind Ennoia). After leaving, he allegedly went west to Africa siring many childer as he went (never staying more than a decade with any one of them). The book says (CbR-Ra) that at least 4 North African lineages claim decent from a trickster figure with no name or home. He warned them to prepare for the awakening of his father. The last evidence of his presence in Africa is at least 3000 years old. [CbR-Ra]

Chandraputra <4> Embraced by Zapathasura. He was known as The General. He was the one who would lead the Ravnos into battle. He would coordinate his strategies with the Black Mother and was the only one of the five childer to stay loyal to his sire. He may have ruled over the mortal city-nation of Harappa until it went to was against the inhabitants of Mo-henjo-Daro. The Kshatriyas jati claims decent from The General. [CbR-Ra]

Ravana <4> Embraced by Zapathasura. He was said to have bargained with true demons for power greater than Zapathasura could ever give him. He allegedly vanished from the world after making the deal. He later lead hundreds of asuratizayya to their death promising them glory and power. One account says he came to Zapathasura and offered him power beyond that which gods would give. He claimed he could walk in the sun and enjoy mortal delights. Zapathasura struck him, only to hit nothing. Ravana's laughter faded and Zapathasura pondered the meaning of the offer. Shortly after that Zapathasura fell into his first prolonged torpor. [CbR-Ra] [PGLC]

Ramessu <4> Embraced by Zapathasura. Sired the Vaisyas jati. The alexandrite jati also claims origin from him. He Embraced solely from the merchant class. He also (in time) tired of fighting and eventually headed west and sired a line that knew nothing of Zapathasura. After his arrival in Egypt he took a large section from the Setite territory when they tried to cast him out. He was able to do this because the Setites were fighting with the local lupines at the time and didn't have the resources to fight both. He later created an "authentic" Egyptian court that lasted into the renaissance, (even though he went into "bouts of torpor"). [CbR-Ra]

Smenkhara <4> Sire of Ankla Hotep. [BbN,p120]

Rodina <4> Sire of Durga Syn. [CotI] [EV,p142]
Notes: See Durga Syn in the sixth generation category for details on her from this sire.

Sybarites' founder <5-4> Embraced by Black Mother/Marizhashti Kali. Sire of Karmenita Yoyari. Diablerized his sire. Was a high member of Caligula's Rome and may have been a confidant of the Emperor. Created Progeny and the line became the Sybarites (this took a few decades). It was then that Chandraputo deliberately let his teachings filter into Gaul through the Kshatriyas jati (his decedents) in an attempt to bring some of the "rogue lineages" back into the fold. The Sybarites took the teachings of the Kshatriyas and perverted them (which basically ended up being do whatever you want road). The founder (childe of Marizhashti/Black Mother) began his belief that Diablerie was a good thing and set out to do so to his sire. [CbR-Ra]

Ankla Hotep <5> (-1727) Embraced by Smenkhar. He was on the Lusitania when it sank in 1915. He pretended to be Caine and created a group called the Get of Caine in 1993. Details from Nightshade: The group is now known as the Cult of Caine. He is in Jonkoping, Sweden under the invitation of a Malkavian Prince named Roos. Ankla tells a group of Kindred several cryptic things about Antediluvians rising, the Second City, a Dragon, natural disasters, one more light must shine before darkness comes and a temple where an ancient is trapped inside. [BbN,p16,101,120] [ToJ:G,p139]

Esmeralda <5> (-1200) The stereotypical Gypsy beauty. [Cb-Ra]

Notes: In (NoP) it says that the traits for Durga Syn can be found in (GCI) and (RaR.) Both of which have different Generation 5th & 7th and Embrace Dates 932 & 923 respectively. Also that Durga was Embraced by Rodina. She is also an Autarkis in (GCI) and rumoured to be a former pupil of Baba Yaga. Her quote in (RaR) is: "Look past illusion. There you will find truth." Fitting for someone that used Chimerstry a lot to cover the deformity of Baba Yaga's curse. Durga's traits were also different in (RaR) and (GCI.) So the traits that were taken from (GCI) instead of (RaR) though (NoP) suggests to look in either book for her traits. In (RaR) Durga's sire listed as unknown, (GCI) there is no listing.

SALUBRI

Saulot / Zao-lat / Ashur <3> Sire of Rayzeel, Samiel, Yakov, Nergal, Shaitan, Moloch, Mokur and Nahum ben Enosh. Also known as The Dragon or The Warlord. Saulot is said to be the first child of the oldest 2nd gen, though not the first Antediluvian. The Malkavians consider that Saulot and Set are brothers to Malkav and that the third eye was given to Saulot by Malkav (CbR-Ma). A long time ago he went to the east and achieved Golconda and lost it. The Baali are the result of one of his attempts to create a bloodline that went wrong. The Wu-Zao are the last vestiges of another of his broods. The warrior and the healer Salubri were his first progeny. The Warrior caste was destroyed and the Healer caste almost destroyed after his Diablerie in 1133. He set up his own Diablerie. In 1998 (TC4 and NoP), Saulot has won and taken control of Tremere's body after quite a struggle, then broke the wards set to hold him and is free again. Saulot visited the Twelve Inconnu of Hunedoara wondering if they would be able to free themselves from their ritual to the daemon Nikanuuranu or they would suffer Final Death at each other's hand triggered from the centuries of "cabin fever." Details from Fair is Foul: Saulot wishes to recruit a group of Kindred in helping to stop Lilith and her Apostates in destroying Caine. Details from Nightshade Tremere's body that Saulot currently occupies is a perfect vessel for the return of the Eldest which destroys Saulot during the Week of Revelation. Saulot was expelled from Tremere's body and he found a new body. Six year old boy was a clone created at Virolax Genetics Research Facility in Sidney, Australia. He is taken to Gehenna in the Valley of Hinnom by a group from Nephtali where he speaks with Set and is forced to drink a vial found on a statue in the Second City. He sacrifices himself to the messenger of the One Above. Which results in the deaths of the 6 remaining Antediluvians and the preceding death of all vampires. Details from The Crucible of G-d: Saulot approaches a group of Kindred that witnessed the failure of a ritual Tremere was developing when Tzimisce took over his body. He asks the group to pray to the One Above to cleanse this world of the curse of vampirism. He let's Tzimisce take control of his body and it Diablerizes the group of Kindred which prayers are answered destroying every Cainite and turning the group into mortals. TOREADOR

Ishtar / Arikel <3> Embraced by Enoch. Sire of Tammuz, Amarantha, Mi-ka-il, Iontius and Amphion. The oldest antediluvian. Twin of Malkav. Yet she awoke from torpor around 260 BC and advised Prince Alchias of Syracuse. Katherine of Montpelier insists that Ishtar is the Toreador Antediluvian, a bull-fighter. Fought with the Gangrel Antediluvian and took shelter with King Minos, siring his son, who fell to the beast and became the 'Minotaur' of mythology. Thought to be the Aralu named Loz in Enoch of the Shadowlands. Thought to be male instead of female. Notes: Helena's first extra level in Auspex allows her to gain mystic perspective over a vast area as though she were looking down from high in the air. Her second level allows her to discover the location of anyone she knows (roll a number of dice equal to her Perception; difficulty is 5 plus the target's Obfuscate [maximum 10]). Her additional levels of Dominate allow her: to use Dominate without eye contact as long as she knows her victim's location; to block other people's Dominate attempts against her victims (add three to their Willpower for the purpose of resisting new Dominate attempts until they have completed what Helena wants of them - sometimes this is never); and to Dominate a number of people (for every extra success she scores over the needed amount, she can roll that many dice to Dominate another person).

TREMERE

Originally a member of the Order of Hermes. The House Tremere wanted to continue using magick during a time when it was failing. They researched immortality as a way to prevent their deaths and the continued power of their magick. The ritual devised by Goratrix wrought from the blood of Clan Tzimisce and performed on the 7 turned them into vampires and denied them use to their magick.

Tremere <5-3-4> (1022) One of the founders of the Order of Hermes. Barely succeeded in taking over the Order in 848. Became a vampire to be immortal. Tall, dark and foreboding. Other sources describe Tremere as a small person, possibly a midget. Diablerized Saulot in 1133. Saulot manipulated Tremere into Diablerizing him, his soul transferred into Tremere's body. That body was infected with Vicissitude and reflected the inner struggle between Tremere's soul and Saulot's until around 1998. Saulot won and took control of Tremere's body in 1998. Tremere's soul took refuge in Etrius body and now resides in Goratrix's body and expelled Goratrix's soul into a mirror. Details from Nightshade: The body of Tremere is missing from his crypt then reappears a couple of nights later at the Vienna Chantry possessed by the Tzimisce Antediluvian and destroys every Tremere except Etrius then made a path of destruction on his way to Ceoris. Tremere who is in the body of Goratrix is actively looking to elevate himself to 3rd generation and needs Etrius's help. With a group of Nephtali and Etrius they go to Ceoris where he releases the daemon Kupala. They then witness the Eldest defeat Kupala and Tremere Diablerizes the Eldest after being weakened from the battle. Tremere turns to the group of Nephtali that accompanied him to Ceoris and threatens their unives with his true power but the Withering has caused him to be unable to use those powers. The group then attacks and destroys Tremere. Details from The Crucible of G-d: Vienna Chantry is gone along with centre mile of the city. Tremere plans to affect every living person on the planet with a ritual that will cause them to walk during the day, thus vampires will kill themselves. The ritual is based off using the True Name of an individual. The Human Genome Project is his foci along with the Mormon record of every living person on the planet and half the dead. As Tremere is completing his ritual Tzimisce has taken control of every thing on the planet, the ritual fails making Tremere into a Vozhd. Master of Ceoris. Of Swedish descent. Responsible for Tremere operations in Eastern Europe. Wrote the "Veneficorum Artum Sanguis", probably the oldest existing text by a Tremere magus. Diablerized a childe of Saulot named Mokur. Etrius wanted to gain 4th gen so that his power will be equal to the other Inner Council members. Mokur offered no resistance just asked to see his sire. He also sent an army of five thousand troops with a dozen Gargoyles and 20 Tremere including Jervais to retake Hunedoara from a force that killed the Tremere who held their Chantry there. The army never achieved their goal they were destroyed miles from the castle. Believing the castle was destroyed along with the army he did not dispatch anymore Tremere to the area. Attended the Convention of Thorns. Watches Tremere's sleeping body in Vienna. In 1998 (TC4), Tremere's soul took refuge in his body, he then has a meeting with Vykos in Atlanta, to meet later with Goratrix in Mexico. Sent Andrew Stewart to spy on the Red Sign Conspiracy which plans to make a ritual that reverses the effects of the Embrace. Details from Nightshade: Noticed the body of Tremere was missing and then it reappeared a couple of nights later possessed by the Tzimisce Antediluvian and destroyed every Tremere in the Chantry. He managed to escape and followed it for a while as it was heading to Ceoris and lost his nerve. He then goes to London and asks the Nephtali to destroy it. TZIMISCE

Tzimisce / the Eldest / Mekhet <3> Embraced by Ynosh. Sire of Kartarirya, Gallod, Andeleon, Byelobog, Yorak, Dracon, Demdemeh, Ruthven, Ionache and Cyscek. According to (CbR-Tz) the Eldest always "possessed a fluid nature and controlled flesh like living clay", Tzimisce cursed Nosferatu with a hideous countenance and not Caine and that he gave Toreador her legendary beauty. He ordered for Kupala to be released from the Carpathians. It is said that Samiel "killed" him but that the Antediluvian survived by re-emerging in the blood he had planted in Dracon and brought back into the world as an embryo that was later put into the care of Yorak. He faked his Diablerie by Lugo during the Anarch Revolt in 1413 and went to torpor. (NoP) He is a mass of flesh with it's own ecosystem under New York calling Tzimisce to him and absorbing them. The only Tzimisce not to suffer this fate is Lambach who the Eldest has stated will be the last Tzimisce to die and will see Gehenna. It is thought to be a Nictuku by the Nosferatu of New York. At present the Eldest is dead, the mass of flesh underneath New York City is just a lifeless husk boiling over with its own Vicissitude, but the Eldest is coming back. It is not a thinking entity anymore, just a malignant presence. Details from Nightshade The mass of flesh in New York is destroyed by Cyscek, Jan Pieterzoon and several other Kindred during the Week of Revelation. As a side effect of the Discipline Vicissitude he is apart of any Kindred who might have digested the blood of a Tzimisce. After taking control of Tremere's body he destroys every Tremere in the Vienna Chantry and then cuts a path of death to Ceoris where he calls all his clan. the Eldest is sitting on his throne in Ceoris when he notices Tremere in the body of Goratrix and several other Kindred are making their way to his castle. He appears from the earth before them when Tremere finishes his ritual that releases Kupala (not sure exactly how the daemon is bond again after being freed at the end of TCIV.) Kupala and the Eldest fight for two days when Kupala is defeated and the Antediluvian is weakened after the battle Tremere Diablerizes him to become 3rd gen again. Details from The Crucible of G-d: The mass of flesh under New York destroys the city rising out of the ground, it is then destroyed the next dawn. The Eldest then takes host in a new body and begins to infect the ground with his blood causing plants and animals even the earth itself to become another extension of the Antediluvian. Tzimisce takes over Tremere's body (who is in Goratrix) when he conducts a ritual in Salt Lake City, Utah. Saulot talks to a group of Kindred, he wants them to pray to the One Above to cleanse the world. Tzimisce takes control of his body and the group of Kindred are devoured by the new host. Their prayers are heard and every vampire dies, including the Eldest, the group that prayed are turned into mortals. [CotI,p44] [NoP] [CbR-Tz] [NYbN] [EV,p176] [LotH,p78] [PGHC,p44] [ToJ:G,p18]

Andeleon / Andeleun <4> Embraced by Tzimisce. He was member of the Tal'Mahe'Rah. Quite adept at explorations of the Deep Umbra. In 489BC, his last expedition ended with a frenzy after a fight with a strange creature of the Deep Umbra. It was then that Vicissitude first passed into the blood of a vampire, for Andeleon swallowed some of the spirit's vile ichor. He had spread the disease among the Tzimisce, leading some to claim that even their torporous Antediluvian was not safe from infection. Only a select group of elders managed to hide away in their castles, safe from their fellow clan members. Killed by some members of True Hand during the Shadow Crusaders. [DSotBH]

once the flood waters receded. He yielded power and influence similar to Yorak and Dracon. His territory was located near Mediasch he disappeared less than a year before Nova Arpad came into power. [PGHC,p45]

Cyscek <4> Details from Nightshade: Feels the flesh-thing under New York calling him and asks a group of Kindred and Jan Pieterzoon to help him with removing it he wants to end Gehenna. Dies while fighting the corpse of the Tzimisce Antediluvian flesh mass in New York during the Week of Revelation. The attack and the true nature of vampires was witnessed by CNN which in turns shreds the Masquerade, this is known as the Unmasking. Was friends with Rosenkrantz the Younger. [ToJ:G,p128]

Ventruue received orders from Caine to destroy some of the 3rd generation childer that were not worthy. Thought to be the Aralu named Nergal in Enoch of the Shadowlands. It is said that Ventruue was destroyed by Brujah or Set. Claimed to have been the first of the Third Generation and Caine's closest advisor. Builder of the Second City. His appearance is described as darkly handsome. Veddartha is named the Ventruue Antediluvian in Dark Ages: Europe. Dead per Gehenna. [CbR-Ve] [DSotBH] [EV,p182] [LotH,p83] [PGHC,p53] [ToJ:Gp18]

Notes: Tiamat's Enchantment Discipline is wholly unlike Tremere magic. It allows her to enchant objects and create the magical traps that protect her barrow. All such spells are performed out of combat and are left to the Storyteller's imagination and dramatic needs. Tiamat's Traits would normally be much higher, but they have suffered from the time in torpor. Should she have a few years to recover, she would be far stronger. When Drakonskyr was in control, Tiamat could feed from anything (this is how she managed to drink her sire's vitae). However, in "normal" circumstances, Tiamat may only feed from females.

Cretheus a.k.a. Cret <5> (-430s) Embraced by Mithras. Sire of Hill. Vizier of Mithras who he served for 600 years in the religion Mithraism in the Roman Empire. Instructed to keep the religion of the sun g-d in power while Mithras went into Torpor in Britain but while in Torpor for a decade Christianity became the new Religion throughout the Roman Empire, he did not care much. He wanted to transcend to the heavens but his beast kept him on the earth. Researching many methods left him going nowhere until he heard of an ancient vampire who had traveled to the farthest east and returned with the secret of transcending the curse of undeath. After nine years of searching he found Saulot and became one of his most ardent disciples. Cret vowed to carry on Saulot's work after his death by Tremere. He found Mokur and joined the far traveled Salubri's school. Cret went to Hunedoara with Mokur to Danika's proposed school of Golconda. Cret the first of Twelve of Hunedoara and self proclaimed Inconnu members Hill, Danika, Anastazi, Abdulkutba, Pentweret, Demetrius, Zamra, Vanth, Eshmunamash, Drenis and Mahtiel made a pact with the fallen angel trading their souls for their protection of Hunedoara and the destruction of the Tremere army sent to kill them. Abdulkutba said they were the world's best hope against Gehenna giving further leverage for Cret to do his ritual. Casting the ritual signing the pact with the Daemon Nikanuuranu the Twelve of Hunedoara are forever captured inside the castles walls. Cret uses his Thaumaturgy to attack his enemies and do his bidding out in the world from his self made castle prison. [*LotH,p85] [WoD,p61]

One of the 12 Inconnu that made Hunedoara Castle the Inconnu Headquarters. He is monitor of the Tremere. He claims to have been Embraced in the Second City. He was known as a mighty wizard, almost as powerful as Lamech, and was considered to be legendary by all but a few until his arrival at Hunedoara.

If you do not own Werewolf: The Apocalypse, simply add two extra dots of Auspex and Fortitude to simulate the effects of these Gifts. Additionally, give him Celerity to three dots to reflect Pariah's Lupine Heritage.

Rites: Pariah knows several rituals that enables him to contact spirits for variety of services. Due to his degenerate state, however only demonic spirits respond. The effects of these rituals are up to individual Storytellers, although some effects allow him to track his enemies and conceal his haven from prying eyes. Use of these rituals destroys his spirit even further, however.

Backgrounds: Contacts 2, Herd 3, Past life 4, Pure Breed 5, Resources 2

Rage: 5

Gnosis: 4

Willpower: 4

Notes: Several of Pariah's Traits appear in Werewolf: The Apocalypse, which goes into greater depth than the simple lists presented here. Additionally, Pariah uses the rules for Abominations provided in the Werewolf Players Guide Second Edition.

Pariah is in a state of perpetual depression, Harano. Halve his dice pools, unless he spends Willpower to negate the penalty for a scene. He may not spend a Willpower to gain automatic successes. He may not spend blood points in the same turn he uses Gnosis or Rage.

Pariah's Gnosis must continue to drop as long as he neglects his lupine heritage. As long as he associates with vampires, this decline is a given.
